DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Eufinger et al. (US 5,798,924).

Eufinger et al. disclose a process or “method” for producing an individually constructed endoprosthesis or implant including the steps of: generating a reference or “virtual three-dimensional” model; comparing the virtual three-dimensional model to an actual model or “real medical reference data”; performing interactive modeling and manipulating to generate a data block or “reference model object”; and manufacturing the implant from the reference model object utilizing a computer-controlled manufacturing unit (col. 1, lines 7-21, col. 4, lines 51-67, col. 5, lines 1-40).

Regarding claim 2, a database is an inherent data storage feature associated with computer-aided design software.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 6 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Eufinger et al.

Art Unit: 3732

Regarding claim 6, although Eufinger et al. disclose manipulation of one reference model and one actual model to generate one reference model objects, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to generate a plurality of reference model objects based on a plurality of reference and actual models, since it has been held that mere duplication of the essential working parts of a device involves only routine skill in the art. St. Regis Paper Co. v. Bemis Co., 193 USPQ 8. It is the Examiner's position that an expert in the related medical field can only perform the data manipulation taught by Eufinger et al.

Response to Arguments

Applicants' arguments under "REMARKS" in Paper No. 10, filed on September 29, 2003, have been fully considered but are not persuasive.

In response to Applicants' argument that the Eufinger et al. reference fails to teach selecting from real medical reference data a set of reference data best suited for the patient and forming a reference model object therefrom, it is the Examiner's position that this step is inherent to generating a patient-specific implant or endoprosthesis otherwise the manufactured implant will not fit the patient.

Applicants' arguments concerning how Eufinger et al. obtain the reference model object from the virtual model utilizing real medical reference data, it is noted that the features upon which applicant relies (i.e., data transformation steps) are not recited in the rejected claim(s). Although the claims are interpreted in light of the specification, limitations from the specification are not read into the claims. See In re Van Geuns, 988 F.2d 1181, 26 USPQ2d 1057 (Fed. Cir. 1993).

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
